

Arizona Leger

2011-2013

Arizona Leger was the head girl of Epsom Girls Grammar School in 2013, and is fondly remembered for her charismatic personality and wonderful leadership. After graduating from EGGS, Arizona enrolled at AUT to study a Bachelor of Communications degree.

A Communications Degree was perfect for Arizona, as she has always had a passion for creating stories that accurately represent the people in her life and community. Arizona is only 21, so a lot of her goals are still in progress, however Arizona grew up in an environment that allows her to have a vision and stay driven. So far, Arizona considers the opportunity to be Head Girl at EGGS one of her greatest successes. Arizona has also been picked up by AUT as a Senior Navigator for their UniPrep programme. This role sees her mentor future university students in the 5 weeks before they start university.

Arizona says that she hopes her proudest achievement will be when she waltz's across the stage at the end of this year to receive her Bachelor of Communications Degree with "true Epsom pride."

"Be present in every moment of your high school life, it will be over before you know it. Always remember to thank those who have allowed you to flourish from a lion cub to a lioness."