

Dr. Melanie Abernethy

1966-1970

During her time at Epsom Girls Grammar School Dr. Melanie Abernethy enjoyed maths, history and Latin lessons, she swam and was in the top school team for cricket and Hockey as well as being her house captain.

Upon completion of her studies Melanie began working at Thames Hospital as a house surgeon. She has been a medical director and company director on several medical boards.

Melanie gained a bachelor of science and a bachelor of medicine and surgery at both Auckland and Otago Universities. In 1998 she became the first Old Girl to chair the EGGs Board of Trustees.

“Being part of an all girls school allowed me to develop and become comfortable with who I am.”
