

Nadesha Godamunne

2004-2008

While at school, Nadesha took all art subjects, but on leaving Epsom Girls Grammar School she could not decide between graphics and fashion. Eventually she followed her gut instinct and pursued fashion at AUT University.

Taking a leap of faith, she left New Zealand at the age of 24 to pursue her passion in New York and created a niche for herself in the workforce; fashion illustration. Nadesha started out working at Ralph Lauren and is currently freelancing.

Sometimes plans don't work out but Nadesha forged her own path in life and has created a whole new career on the way; she is always changing her way of working and living to keep things interesting.

"I'm such a planner but nothing worked out the way I planned so I'm gonna do my own thing!"